- c. Professional development will be aligned with Richmond Christian School's educational programming and operational requirements and the school will ensure appropriate resources, time and funding are allocated to support professional development activities.
- d. A full-time teacher has 200 designated days of instruction, in-service learning and professional development per year. Within those days, teachers should ensure they achieve approximately thirty (30) hours of professional development activities, whether it is development offered through the school or taken independently. A minimum of 10 hours must be taken independently.
- e. Professional development hours for part-time staff will be pro-rated.
- f. Professional development requirements for Administrators and other staff will be guided by the terms of their employment contract, professional development plan or as directed by the Superintendent or school board.
- g. Costs and Reimbursement of Development Activities:
  - i. Remuneration for professional development costs should be made in consultation and with the pre-approval of the Superintendent and as articulated in a professional development plan.

- ii. Professional development activities and time should be documented, expensed and documents verifying enrollment, attendance and/or successful completion of the program may be required. Where an individual is to be reimbursed for the cost of a professional development activity, the school will do so in a reasonable timeframe or as agreed between the individual and the school.

4. Definitions

Professional development: continuing education and career training that helps to develop new skills, improve practices, and stay up to date on current pedagogy within the profession.

Examples of professional development activities include, but are not limited to:

- a. experiential learning such as hands-on practicums, project-based assignments, secondments, targeted changes in teaching assignments, developing, and leading workshops and/or education related travel exchanges
- b. mentoring and coaching
- c. courses, seminars, conferences through universities, colleges, professional associations and/or accredited learning institutions
- d. involvement and work with committees, boards and professional associations

5. Responsibilities

- a. Employees are responsible for driving their own professional development and growth as an educator and engaging with the school to enable the achievement of their development goals.
- b. Administrators are responsible for supporting employees in their professional development by enabling a regular system of evaluation, feedback and goal setting and ensuring appropriate funding of development activities.

6. Process

- a. A staff member's professional development is enhanced significantly when specific areas for growth are identified and targeted, when it is done within a professional learning community, and when formalized in a professional growth plan.
- b. On an annual basis, or other time frame agreed to by the parties, either at the end of or at the beginning of the school year, an employee and their supervisor should meet to review overall performance and identify areas for improvement and desired growth. Professional development goals and supporting activities should be documented in a Professional Growth Plan.

- c. Regular check-ins during the year to update on progress is highly effective at supporting learning outcomes and ensuring that the professional development plan is still up-to-date and relevant. Check-in meetings will be scheduled regularly.
